

BUSINESS BRAIN WORKSHOP

The Workbook.

60 minutes to a Pocket Agent that knows your business.

Fifteen pages. Five zones — voice, customers, products, competitive, decisions. You write in the blanks during the workshop; Pocket Agent lifts them into your Business Brain at the end. That's the whole thing.

The 60 minutes.

This workbook is the fill-in-the-blank version of your Business Brain. You write in it during class. Pocket Agent lifts the answers into your brain repo at the end.

The agenda

- 00–05 Frame — what a Business Brain is, why it beats a shared prompt.
- 05–15 Voice — how you talk. Prompts on pages 3 and 4.
- 15–25 Customers — who buys from you. Pages 5 and 6.
- 25–35 Products — what you sell. Pages 7 and 8.
- 35–45 Competitive — who else they're looking at. Pages 9 and 10.
- 45–55 Decisions + rules — the standing calls. Pages 11 through 13.
- 55–60 Fork the template. Pocket Agent reads. You're live.

How to use it

- Write short. If it takes a paragraph, it's not the answer — the answer is the sentence.
- Real over pretty. The messy true answer beats the clean generic one every time.
- Say what you'd say to a friend at a coffee table. Read it back out loud if you're not sure.
- Blanks stay blank. If you don't know it yet, leave it — Pocket Agent will ask you again later.

How you talk.

The way you say it is the way Pocket Agent will say it. Write the way you'd talk — not the way a website talks.

How would your best customer describe how you talk?

What phrases do you use that a competitor never would?

What comes out of a bot that makes you cringe?

The single hardest objection you get — and how you actually answer it.

Show three real ones.

Paste (or write out) three real messages you've sent — a text, an email, a note to a customer. Real ones you're proud of. These are the calibration Pocket Agent will read every time it drafts.

MESSAGE 1

MESSAGE 3

Who buys from you.

Pocket Agent works best when it knows the person on the other end. Not a persona doc — a real customer you had this month.

Describe your best customer in one sentence.

How do they find you?

What are they afraid of when they call?

What do they buy? What don't they buy?

Who is NOT your customer?

Your top three, ranked.

Name your three biggest customer segments and roughly what share of your work each is. If one is 80%, say 80% — round numbers are fine.

SEGMENT 1 SHARE OF WORK

WHY THEY BUY FROM YOU:

SEGMENT 2 SHARE OF WORK

WHY THEY BUY FROM YOU:

WHY THEY BUY FROM YOU:

What you sell.

Every product or service you sell, in one row. Ballpark numbers — not to the penny. "What's included" is what the customer gets. "What isn't" is where the upsell or the misfit lives.

PRODUCT	WHAT IT SOLVES	$ RANGE	INCLUDED	NOT INCLUDED

How you package it.

Draw your tiers however you actually sell them — Good / Better / Best, or a single line, or a menu. Use the boxes below. Name each one, list what's in it, put a price on it.

TIER 1	TIER 2	TIER 3
NAME + PRICE	NAME + PRICE	NAME + PRICE
_____	_____	_____
WHAT'S IN IT	WHAT'S IN IT	WHAT'S IN IT
_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____

Who they compare you to.

Three businesses your customers look at before they pick you. For each — one strength, one weakness, and how you win against them. Real names, if you know them.

COMPETITOR 1

NAME

THEIR STRENGTH	THEIR WEAKNESS	WHY YOU WIN

NAME

NAME

THEIR STRENGTH	THEIR WEAKNESS	WHY YOU WIN

One sentence. Why you.

One sentence. The reason someone picks you over any of the three you just named. If it takes two sentences, you don't have it yet — write the version you have and keep working.

TRY IT AGAIN. SHORTER.

ONE MORE TIME. THE VERSION YOU'D SAY OUT LOUD.

Three real calls.

Name three decisions you made in the last 12 months you'd want Pocket Agent to know about. Not vision statements — actual calls with a before and after. "We stopped taking X." "We raised the price on Y." "We fired the vendor doing Z."

The rule you never break.

One rule that runs the business. The line you don't cross even when it costs you the sale. Write it in the box. If you can't get it in the box, it's too many rules.

This image shows a single sheet of white paper with horizontal blue or grey ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page. There is no handwriting or other markings on the paper.

STANDING RULES

What Pocket Agent is not allowed to

The rules Pocket Agent reads before it drafts a single message. Tick the ones that apply. Add your own on the blank lines.

- ☐ Never use a real customer's name in public copy without asking me first.
- ☐ Never quote a real dollar figure from a live deal.
- ☐ Never send anything after 8pm on a customer's local clock.
- ☐ Never invent a testimonial. Ever.
- ☐ Never use the words "leverage," "unlock," or "seamless" in anything I sign.
- ☐ Never make a promise on price without pulling my current tier sheet.
- ☐ Never reply to a bad review without me eyes-on first.
- ☐ Never send a quote without a real scope attached.
- ☐ Never promise a timeline I haven't confirmed.
- ☐ Never write "just following up" — say why I'm following up.

YOUR OWN

- ☐ _____
- ☐ _____
- ☐ _____
- ☐ _____

The five zones on one page.

Voice

Pages 3-4.

How you talk. The way you'd say it to a friend at a coffee table.

Customers

Pages 5-6.

Who buys from you. The real person on the phone, not a persona doc.

Products

Pages 7-8.

What you sell. Real ranges, real scopes, real what's-not-included.

Competitive

Pages 9-10.

Who else they're looking at. Strength, weakness, why you win.

Decisions

Pages 11-12.

The calls you made and the rule you never break.

One line to remember.

Your Business Brain is a repo you own. Pocket Agent reads from it. Fill it in once, edit it forever. Nobody else touches it without you saying so.

AFTER THE CLASS

Fork the brain. Connect the agent.

Take the answers you wrote in this workbook, fork the Business Brain template, and drop your answers into the five folders. Pocket Agent reads it and starts drafting in your voice.

GO TO

pocketagent.com/workshop/setup

Or scan the code. Same page. It walks you through forking the template, connecting Pocket Agent to your new brain repo, and running your first agent draft.

Three moves to live.

1. Fork the template repo into your GitHub account.
2. Connect Pocket Agent to the new repo (one click).
3. Ask Pocket Agent to draft a message. Watch it sound like you.
